1951 Rutgers Roster

(This is a tentative squad roster containing the names of the sophomores, juniors, and seniors reporting for pre-season practice. In accordance with the 1951 ruling of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, freshman football candidates will train with the varsity squad. Rutgers University authorities have ruled that freshmen will not be used in any game against an opponent not using freshmen on its varsity squad. A supplemental roster listing freshman players will be prepared prior to the beginning of the regular season.)

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

Harvey J. Harman, Head Coach

ENTERING his tenth season as head coach of Rutgers football, Harvey J. Harman has compiled one of the finest college records in the nation. Since he first came to the banks of the Old Raritan in 1938, he has piloted Scarlet elevens to 58 triumphs in 78 games. The record of his postwar teams (1946-1950) ranks ninth in the nation among major colleges.

Past president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman has been associated with the grid game since he was 13, first as a player and later as a coach and administrator. He played at New Castle (Pa.) High School and Peabody High School in Pittsburgh. Entering the University of Pittsburgh in 1918, he immediately won a starting tackle berth under Glenn S. (Pop) Warner. He missed the starting lineup only twice in four years at Pitt and won All-American recognition.

He won additional letters in track and was president of his junior and senior classes. Harman received his A.B. from Pitt in 1922 and began his coaching career at Haverford that fall. Meanwhile, he continued his studies at the University of Pennsylvania until he earned his Master's Degree in government at that institution.

Harman remained at Haverford until 1930, when he became athletic director and coach of football and track at Sewanee, the University of the South. A year later, he went to Penn, where he remained as coach of football until he resigned in December, 1937. His appointment at Rutgers followed.

His first season "on the Banks" won him a permanent place of honor in Rutgers football history when his gridders defeated Princeton in a famous 20 to 18 triumph which dedicated the present Rutgers Stadium. It was the first Scarlet win over the Tigers since 1869. The only loss of his first season was to N.Y.U. and his second Rutgers team lost only to Brown. Single losses have marred otherwise spotless records in three of his seasons at Rutgers.

Following the outbreak of World War II, Harman laid aside his coaching togs and replaced them with Navy blue. Leaving Rutgers in the spring of 1942, he served as director of athletics at North Carolina Pre-Flight in Chapel Hill, was transferred to a similar post at Iowa Pre-Flight, and later saw combat duty in the Pacific aboard one of the Navy's largest carriers. He was a full Commander at the time of his return to Rutgers late in 1945.

Harman now holds the academic rank of professor in the Department of Physical Education at the State University. An active and popular figure in civic and religious affairs, Harman is a deacon of the Second Reformed Church of New Brunswick. He is past president of the Navy V-5 Association, and a member of Kiwanis, Phi Gamma Delta, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, and the University Club of Philadelphia. He has been an active supporter and organizer in the National Football Hall of Fame movement since its inception a few years ago.

Arthur A. Matsu, Backfield Coach

SENIOR member of the Rutgers coaching staff in tenure, Art Matsu has been in the department of athletics since 1931. He now holds the rank of associate professor in physical education. Matsu is in his eighth season as varsity backfield coach, an assignment he shares with Eddie Masavage. Art starred as a player at William and Mary in football, basketball, and track. After graduation he was freshman grid coach at his alma mater before coming to Rutgers in 1931. He was an assistant varsity coach of the Scarlet until 1936, coached the freshmen that season, and was back with the varsity in 1937. Matsu coached the freshmen again in 1938 then served two years as director of athletic publicity. He received his present varsity assignment in 1944.

Edward S. Masavage, Backfield Coach

WIRY Eddie Masavage has been associated with Harvey Harman almost continuously since 1931, first as a player, then as a coach, later in the Navy, and again as a member of the Rutgers coaching staff. Masavage played two years of varsity football under Harman at Penn. Upon his graduation in 1933, he joined Harman's staff as varsity backfield assistant and coach of Penn's 150-pound varsity. He came to Rutgers with Harman in 1938 and coached the backfield until he entered the Naval Reserve in 1942. Eddie was stationed with Harman at North Carolina Pre-Flight, then went to sea aboard the aircraft carrier Essex for 18 months. Following his discharge with the rank of lieutenant commander, he returned to Rutgers to team with Art Matsu as backfield coach of the Scarlet.

Alexander Sabo, Line Coach

ONE of Fordham's famed "Seven Blocks of Granite," Al Sabo is in his twelfth season of coaching at Rutgers this fall. Sabo is a "home town" athlete from New Brunswick. He came to Rutgers as freshman line coach after his graduation from Fordham in 1936. He worked with the varsity the following season, returned to the freshmen in 1938, and became Harman's end coach in 1940. Like Harman and Masavage, Al entered the Naval Reserve in 1942. He rose to the rank of lieutenant commander while serving in French Morocco and returned to Rutgers in time for the 1946 season. Before the war, big Al was a professional baseball catcher with the Washington Senators from 1936-38.

Albert W. Twitchell, Line Coach

RUTGERS football and lacrosse star of the thirties, Al (Red) Twitchell is in his third season as a varsity coach. In 1948, he was line coach of Rutgers' undefeated freshman team and coach of freshman lacrosse. He became head coach of lacrosse in 1950 and, this spring, piloted his stickmen to nine wins in ten games—best Rutgers lacrosse record since 1928. Twitchell began coaching after his graduation from Rutgers in 1935. Following four years of high school coaching of football and lacrosse, he went to Hofstra College as assistant football coach and director of intramural athletics. He returned to high school coaching at Sewanhaka (L.I.) High School soon afterward as head coach of football and lacrosse. He came back to Rutgers for graduate work and as a part-time instructor in 1947 and served as assistant coach in 150-pound football and lacrosse. He now holds the academic rank of associate professor in physical education.

Jack L. Maddox, End Coach

ANOTHER former Rutgers football and lacrosse player, Jack (Duke) Maddox joined Harvey Harman's staff last year after earning a national reputation in prep school coaching. A graduate of Manlius School, Maddox first attended Duke and later earned his degree at Rutgers. After a brief business career, he entered coaching at Valley Forge Military Academy in 1942. He went to Bullis School in 1947 and coached the top prep school team in the nation. His Bullis team was the first prep eleven ever to beat both the Army and Navy plebe teams in the same season. He holds the rank of assistant professor in physical education.

Otto H. Hill, Assistant Varsity Coach

CENTER on Harvey Harman's 1941 eleven, Otto Hill is starting his fifth season as a grid coach. After a stint in the Air Force, he returned to Rutgers in 1946. He won Rutgers letters in football and lacrosse and played service football. He coached the junior varsity in 1947 and 1948 and has been head coach of the Scarlet freshman teams for the past two seasons. He will probably coach the 1951 sub-varsity team.

Richard L. Voliva, 150-Pound Varsity Coach

A STAR in football and track and a National Intercollegiate wrestling champion at Indiana University, Dick Voliva coached those sports at Montclair State Teachers College after competing in the 1936 Olympics. He was an Army major during World War II. Since he came to Rutgers in 1945, he has been varsity wrestling coach and has served as 150-pound grid coach for the past three years. Last winter, his wrestling team compiled one of the best records in Rutgers' mat history.

Alexander G. Sidar, Jr., 150-Pound Assistant Coach

FORMER Rutgers lightweight football star and varsity wrestler, Alex Sidar has served as assistant coach in both these sports for the past few years. An assistant professor in physical education, Sidar also helps coach track.

Mike Stang, Trainer

John Powers, Custodian of Equipment

Harry J. Amling '52, Senior Student Manager

Rutgers Athletic Administration

George E. Little, Director of Athletics

A LEADING figure in athletics for more than 30 years, George Little has had a great record as player, coach, and administrator. In charge of Rutgers athletics since 1931, he was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan in 1912 after a brilliant football and track career. Starting his coaching career at Cincinnati, he went to Miami (Ohio) University in 1916. He left to serve overseas during World War I and returned as director of athletics. He went to Michigan in 1922, becoming head football coach in 1924. A year later, he was appointed director and head football coach at Wisconsin. He resigned as coach in 1927 to devote his full time to administration. Little remained at Wisconsin until he accepted his Rutgers position in 1931.

Harry J. Rockefeller, Associate Director of Athletics

REGARDED as one of the best known figures associated with Scarlet athletics, "Rocky" entered Rutgers in 1912. He starred in four years of football, basketball, baseball, and track. After serving in the war and in business for several years, he returned to Rutgers in 1924 as graduate manager. He was named head coach of football in 1927. In four years his teams won 19 and lost 16 games. In 1930, he resigned as coach in favor of administrative duties. In 1932, he became 150-pound varsity coach and his lightweight elevens were undefeated in 18 games, winning Eastern Intercollegiate titles in 1933, 1934, and 1935. He coached varsity football during World War II, compiling a record of 14 wins, 10 losses and one tie in four wartime years.

Scarlet Player Sketches

Ends

JOHN ARTHUR, junior. A good receiver, Arthur works mostly on offense. He also handled the PAT chores for the Scarlet in 1950. He's a good blocker, too.

HAROLD CORIZZI, senior. High-scoring basketball star, Hal Corizzi teams with Russ Sandblom as one of the best end combos in the East. Fast, evasive, and sticky-fingered.

EDWARD DUDA, sophomore. A former All-sectional high school star, Ed Duda may see action on both offense and defense. An all-round wing prospect.

JAMES DAVIS, sophomore. Another two-platoon newcomer, rangy Jim Davis is a deceptive receiver and a bone-rattling defense operator. He was All-State.

ROBERT SERKO, sophomore. Fastest of the sophomore ends, Bob stars in track as well as on the gridiron. Was an All-Conference choice at Endicott (N.Y.) High.

JAMES SMITH, sophomore. Husky veteran of a tough freshman campaign, Jim figures strongly as a replacement in the defensive line. He's big and fast.

ROBERT STITES, junior. Bob looked well in reserve action last year after coming up from the junior varsity. A good defensive wingman, he is also a wrestler.

RUSSELL SANDBLOM, junior. One of the East's top ends last year, bullish Russ averaged better than 25 yards with each of his 20 passes caught and scored five touchdowns. He specializes in circus-catches which defy defenders.

Tackles

HOWARD ANDERSON, junior. Biggest man on the Rutgers team, Howie packs plenty of aggressiveness into his 240 pounds. Son of a former Scarlet halfback, Anderson is a defensive standout and could be one of the nation's best.

NUNZIO COLLARENO, sophomore. Largest of the sophomore tackle contingent, Nunzio will be tough to keep out of the starting lineup. A defensive specialist, he needs only varsity experience to stand out with the best.

WALTER FISHER, senior. Big Walt is the rangiest of the tackles and is amazingly fast on his feet. Strong and aggressive, he was a top offensive tackle last season, noted for his blocking downfield.

JOHN LEZDEY, junior. Breaking into the starting lineup several times last year, John totes a husky 225 pounds but can handle himself well on both offense and defense.

LESLIE MILLER, sophomore. A defensive standout as a freshman guard, Les comes up to the varsity bigger by 15 pounds. His spring performance showed he was aiming for a first-team assignment.

DONALD SHWEDO, sophomore. Don added 20 pounds since last year and should make a rock-ribbed tackle on both offense and defense.

JOSEPH SCALIOTTA, junior. Another veteran in the forward wall, Joe is an able blocker and a vicious tackler. He operates on both offense and defense.

THOMAS NATHANIEL, sophomore. A most versatile newcomer, sophomore Nathaniel may see service as a tackle on offense and end on defense.

Guards

WILLIAM DOLIBER, sophomore. Bill lacks experience but is big and tough and could break into the lineup. He's from Marblehead, Mass., high school.

RUDY CELIGOI, junior. Rudy saw considerable action last year and showed great improvement this spring. A solid 200-pounder, he operates on both offense and defense.

STEPHEN LYONS, sophomore. Quick and solid, Steve was a standout as a freshman and looked good in the spring. Though able in both platoons, he should shine on defense.

MAHLON MORRISON, junior. Fast for his size (210) and crushing blocker, Bud started on offense last year but this talents can be used on defense as well.

ERRICO PACILIO, junior. Mightiest mite among the guards, Ed is huge in everything but size. An Army veteran, he played service football and has plenty of savvy. He is dynamite on both offense and defense.

ROMAN RUTKOWSKI, senior. A two-year varsity veteran and first-team regular, Roman is a defensive bull. After a summer of Army training, he reports in top physical shape and will provide tough opposition for anyone seeking his job.

WILLIAM SHERENGOS, senior. A hard-running 190-pounder, Bill reports for his second season of varsity duty. A reserve last year, he is tabbed as an offensive operator.

JOHN SCHUCK, senior. A starter as a sophomore, John was injured and had to battle it out with Ed Pacilio to retain his role on offense last year. Big, fast, and rangy, he has plenty of experience and rugged ability.

FRANK CAPRARO, senior. Though listed among the guards, little Frank won opponents' praises last year as a defensive linebacker. He's a crushing tackler and analyzes an offensive with amazing accuracy. A real Johnny-on-the-spot.

Centers

JOSEPH AMBROSE, junior. First replacement for Leon Root last year, Joe has earned himself a nickname, "The Young Bull," which depicts his play on both offense and defense. A hard-hitting 210-pounder, he figures to stand out.

JOSEPH DADDARIO, sophomore. A solidly-built 195-pounder, Joe showed up well in the spring and could win himself a role on either offense or defense.

ALFRED FREIMARK, sophomore. Smallest of the center candidates, Al had a good freshman season and needs only additional experience. He is strictly an offensive operator.

JAMES SCOTT, sophomore. Tallest of the pivotmen at 6-3, "Scotty" handles the ball on offense and doubles as a defensive end. He tops the 200-pound mark and covers plenty of territory.

Quarterbacks

DONALD DREIER, sophomore. Best long-passer among the quarterbacks, "Butch" lacks varsity experience but is a fine tosser and a hard runner. He was an All-Scholastic back at Baldwin, L. I.

JOHN EMERY, junior. A good quarterback and a top defensive safetyman, John was hobbled by injuries most of last season but could come along fast in 1951.

JOHN JEFFERS, sophomore. No. 1 quarterback of the 1950 freshman eleven, Jack looked good in spring drills and could earn himself a starting job on either offense or defense.

WALTER LA PRARIE, senior. The Scarlet's leading ground-gainer for two years, "Wally" plots a smooth attack, passes excellently, and can run with the best of them. He is a dependable safetyman on defense and ranks among the East's top quarterbacks. In 1950, he passed for seven touchdowns and ran for two.

Halfbacks

BRUCE CLYMER, sophomore. A light-footed right half, Bruce starred as a freshman and will be a firm contender for a starting role. He's a solid 160-pounder.

ROBERT D'AMATO, senior. Rutgers' top scorer last season, "Bobby-Dee" cracks a line solidly from his right half slot and wiggles away through the secondary. A fast, hard offensive player, his slip-away ability earned him the tag "ghost-runner."

JAMES DURFEE, sophomore. A 170-pound right half, Jim was a top freshman back and performed well in the spring. He could win a starting spot on defense.

BOAZ FIRKSER, senior. Smallest halfback at 5-6 and 150 pounds, "Buzzy" played lightweight football but saw some varsity action. Fast and shifty, he might be a good "spot player."

RICHARD MILLER, sophomore. A 165-pound scatback, Dick should see reserve action on both offense and defense. He operates from the left side.

JAMES MONAHAN, senior. "Mighty Mo" rolled up a new Rutgers rushing record last fall, averaging nearly six-yards with 105 charges. Already tabbed "All-East," he runs inside and outside, passes, punts, blocks capably, and is a great pass-receiver. A bruising 195-pounder, he ranks with the fastest backs on the team and strikes from either fullback or left half.

F. JOSEPH TRIGGS, sophomore. Top prospect among the sophomores, Joe is a potentially great open-field runner with tricky hips and climax speed. He starred in baseball, football, and track as a freshman.

RONALD WARNER, senior. Ron saw most of his action as a defensive back last year but displayed some good running form, especially this spring. Tall (6-1) and solid (185 pounds), he'll probably see double duty in both backfields.

ROBERT WYGANT, senior. Used sparingly because of injuries in 1949 and 1950, Bobby is aiming for his best year at left half. He netted 130 yards in only 13 rushes last year, including an 80-yard touchdown dash against Princeton.

Fullbacks

DONALD DUNCAN, sophomore. New Jersey's top schoolboy athlete two years ago, Don has been converted from quarter to fullback because of his line-backing ability.

L. RAY HONEYWELL, sophomore. A 190-pound six-footer, Ray is slated for double-duty in both platoons. He hits hard and is a dependable tackler.

WILLIAM O'NEILL, sophomore. Light for a fullback at 175, Bill is a neat break-away runner and doubles as a defensive halfback. He may see considerable action.

HOWARD OTTLEY, senior. No. 1 fullback after Monahan was switched to halfback in 1950, Howard is a versatile back who runs hard, punts, and is a good receiver. Powerful and mentally alert, he does a neat job of backing up the line.

RAY VOHDEN, senior. Hottest when the chips are down, Ray came along very rapidly last year and was an ace defensive back. A former quarterback, he throws an accurate pass and shows surprising speed on his runs.

ROBERT KAPLAN, junior. Used sparingly on offense last year, Bob has the makings of a fine defensive linebacker and will see most of his action in that role.

Crafty Kawal the Upsetter

Entering his third season as Temple coach, Al Kawal has broken even in his tussles with the Scarlet. His first Owl eleven fashioned a 14 to 7 upset in Philly two years ago, and last year, his warriors were edged 26 to 20 in the Rutgers Stadium. Despite losing some close battles in 1950, he managed a 7 to 6 upset over Syracuse and a 7 to 7 tie with Penn State. A former Big Ten football and basketball captain at Northwestern, Kawal coached some brilliant teams at Drake in the Missouri Valley Conference. Before coaching at Drake, he was at Michigan State and Boston University as assistant coach.

HISTORY OF RUTGERS — 1766-1951

Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts has been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927. University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey.

Devore Paints a Brighter Violet

Despite a not-too-impressive first season at N.Y.U., wily Hughie Devore hints at better things to come. A sophomore and freshman-laden team should signal a return to power. A Notre Dame grad, Devore held prior coaching jobs at Notre Dame, Fordham, Providence and Holy Cross before his successful tenure at St. Bonaventure. The Jerseyan was an All-American and captain of the Fighting Irish. He started his grid career at St. Benedict's Prep in his home town of Newark.

Things look bright again this year for the former Brooklyn Dodger halfback. A graduate of St. Lawrence, "Leck" played ball in the service, as well as on the professional gridirons.

Things Are Rosy on Rose Hill

Edward F. Danowski starred as halfback for Fordham under the Iron Major, Frank Cavanaugh, in the early Thirties and was captain of Jim Crowley's first Ram team in 1933. An All-American, he played with the pro Giants from 1934 through 1939, completing 307 of 645 passes. Retiring from active playing, he entered service and rose to the rank of Lt. Commander by the time he left the Navy in 1945. He returned to Rose Hill in 1946 and has been building bigger and better Rams. Last year, his Maroon gridders won eight of nine games and figure to provide husky opposition for the Scarlet in the Hall of Fame tilt.

RUTGERS — FOOTBALL'S PIONEER

Rutgers pioneered American intercollegiate football in an historic game played with Princeton on November 6, 1869, on College Field, the plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers Gymnasium stands in New Brunswick. Football in its embryonic state bore striking if rustic resemblance to its modern version. Playing under primitive rules with 25 men on each team, the original Scarlet "eleven" defeated the invading Princeton squad, six goals to four. The challenge for the first game was issued by Rutgers students in hope of avenging a 40-2 baseball defeat by Princeton in 1866. The Tigers accepted the challenge and rules were drawn up. Employed in the first game were crude rudiments of such later mayhem as the flying wedge, sleepers, and the first incident of a player kicking the ball toward the wrong goal.

Kelley is New Bruin Mentor

A former All-East end from Cornell, Alva Kelley makes his debut in 1951 as head coach at Brown. Entering the Army following his graduation from Cornell, he rose to the rank of captain. He entered the coaching field after the war. His appointment as successor to Gus Zitrides at Brown followed stints as end coach at Cornell and line coach at Yale.

THE SCARLET'S HOME GROUNDS

Rutgers Stadium is the heart of a million-dollar athletic plant situated on the University Heights campus. The Stadium area embraces 270 acres of gently rolling hills. Facilities include a nine-hole golf course, several baseball diamonds, six playing fields, and two practice gridirons.

The Stadium seats 23,000. The field is of turtle-back construction and is surrounded by a track modeled after the Los Angeles Olympic oval. One of the nation's best tracks, it has eight lanes on the curves and backstretch, with a 12-lane, 220-yard straightaway.

Stands are of reinforced concrete with wooden seats. A modern field house runs the length of the East stands and contains dressing rooms and offices. A well-equipped press box crowns the West stands, providing for more than 100 writers with telegraph and telephone service. Both ends of the press box have glass enclosed broadcasting booths, topped by photographers' platforms.

"Rip" Engle, the Ringmaster

Ending his first season at State College with four straight triumphs after installing a new system, "Rip" Engle gave notice that the Nittany Lion has regained its claws. A Dick Harlow product of Western Maryland, Engle gave Brown some of its toughest postwar combines before heading West. He spent ten years in high school coaching then went to Brown as an assistant in 1942. Taking over the reins in 1944, he piled up an enviable record with the Bruins. He fashions a power-packed wing-T attack that is hard to stop.

Fireworks by Bixler

Entering his fifth season at the helm of the Red Raiders, Coach Paul Bixler has earned a reputation for wide-open, explosive football. A former Ohio State Coach, Bixler coached with the Buckeyes following his graduation from Mount Union in 1929. Following another stint at Akron University as football and basketball coach, he came to Colgate as an assistant coach in 1939. He returned to Ohio State in 1941 and became head coach in 1945. Though lacking in outstanding records, his Colgate elevens have shown plenty of scoring punch and are dangerous opponents on any Saturday.

Rutgers Football Facts

Rutgers Color—Scarlet.

Rutgers Nicknames—The Scarlet, The Queensmen.

Best Rutgers Record—The Scarlet of 1947, coached by Harvey Harman, won eight of its nine games, losing only the opener to Columbia.

Worst Rutgers Record—The 1901 team lost all seven games played that season.

Longest Rutgers Winning Streak—The longest unbroken string of Rutgers victories began after the 25-6 defeat by N.Y.U. in midseason of 1938. Five straight triumphs followed and, in 1939, the unblemished streak ran to 13 before Brown toppled the Scarlet in the season's finale, 13-0. The record includes a scoreless tie with Richmond in 1939.

Oldest Rutgers Rivalries—Rutgers' oldest football rivalry is with Princeton, dating back to America's first intercollegiate football game in 1869. Football relations began with Columbia the following year. Rutgers has met Lehigh more than any other rival. With 49 games played, Rutgers holds an edge over the Engineers with 27 wins, 21 losses, and two ties. Lafayette and Rutgers have met 46 times, Lafayette winning 26, losing 19, and tying one.

Rutgers All-Americans—Most widely recognized All-Americans produced at Rutgers were Paul Robeson and Homer Hazel. Robeson was named by Walter Camp at end in 1918. Hazel won similar fame at end in 1923 and again as fullback in 1924. In selecting Hazel, Camp said: "Hazel would be All-America at any position." Numerous other Rutgers players have received mention on various All-American selections.

Rutgers Captain—Game captains are elected during the season and an honorary captain selected at the end of the season. Center Leon Root was the 1950 captain.

Rutgers Training Camp—Pre-season practice is held annually at the New Jersey National Guard Camp at Sea Girt, on the Jersey shore. During the season, drills are held on the varsity practice field, adjacent to the East Side of the Stadium.

Rutgers Football Office—Located off the left side of the foyer on the ground floor of the Rutgers Gymnasium on College Avenue in New Brunswick.

Sports Publicity Office—Located on the third floor, south, of Winants Hall on the corner of Somerset Street and College Avenue in New Brunswick.

Football Hall of Fame Office—The office of Arthur L. Evans, executive secretary of the National Football Hall of Fame, is located on the second floor, center, of Winants Hall. Telephone number is CHarter 7-1766, Ext. 420.

Rutgers Punters—Most of the kicking is handled by Jim Monahan, who averaged 35.6 yards with 39 punts in 1950. Ray Vohden and Howard Ottley also punt.

Placement Kickers—End John Arthur did most of the extra-point kicking in 1950.

Largest Man on the 1951 Squad—Junior Tackle Howard Anderson, who tips the scales at 240 pounds, takes the blue ribbon in the weight division. Spreading his bulk over a six-foot, four-inch frame, Howie is surprisingly fast and agile.

Reproduced above is the architect's drawing of the proposed National Football Hall of Fame. The tentative site for the grid shrine is on the heights to the North of the Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers was selected as the location for the Hall of Fame because America's first intercollegiate football game was played on the Rutgers campus on November 6, 1869, between Rutgers and Princeton. Last fall, Rutgers played Brown in the first annual Hall of Fame Game in the Rutgers Stadium. Fordham and Rutgers will play the second such game here on November 3, 1951. A Reunion of All-Americans is a highlight of the annual Hall of Fame Game.

The Middle Three Cannon—The Little Brass Cannon is the latest addition to Rutgers' cannon traditions, which date back to the Revolutionary War. The tradition was nurtured by the bitter "Cannon Wars" waged between Rutgers and Princeton students during the 19th Century. The Little Brass Cannon was presented to Rutgers in 1931 and has been the symbol of Middle Three supremacy on the gridiron since 1940. Lafayette won the Cannon the first year it was on the block and held it until 1945. Rutgers retrieved it that year and held it four more seasons, until Lehigh scored its first capture last year. For the first time since 1945, the Cannon comes to the Rutgers Stadium in enemy hands and saluting the scores of opponents.

Longest 1950 Scoring Run—Speedboy Bobby Wygant raced for an 80-yard touchdown run against Princeton.

Longest 1950 Scoring Pass—Ray Vohden threw a 40-yard pass to Jim Monahan, who raced the distance for the winning touchdown against Brown. The play covered 80 yards.

Longest 1950 Interception Return—End Hal Corizzi returned an interception for a 70-yard touchdown against Syracuse.

Best 1950 Pass-receiving—Junior End Russ Sandblom caught 20 passes for 513 yards and five touchdowns. He averaged nearly 26 yards with every pass caught.
